Title

Focus Area

Apparel

My selected focus area for this major textile work is apparel. It is intended to be worn as a luxurious and sophisticated piece of clothing and is suitable for formal occasions.

The Christian Dior 1950s collection with its significant 'new look' fashion trend is replicated in the design of the pencil skirt. Marilyn Monroe's pencil skirt design has also been incorporated into the design of the garment to further emphasize the wearer's curves, highlighting natural beauty to achieve a flattering silhouette.

The neutral tones of pink florals created by the natural dyes of teas and beetroot provide a connection to historical significance. Floral embellishments are imbued with symbolic meaning, representing love and beauty through the vibrant use of pink dyes.
